FAST START INSTRUCTIONS

This page will quickly acquaint the reader with this index. More details are given in the formal introduction on the following pages.

HOW TO USE THIS INDEX

Search for the name in alphabetical order in this index. Keep in mind that the following all file before the letter 'A': 1) a blank space, 2) an apostrophe, 3) a hyphen, and 4) a question mark (used for blotted letters, etc.). Thus, the following are listed in correct filing order: ?RR, M GEE, M'GEE, M?FLE, MABEN, MAC GEE, MACGEE, MARRWARD, MARRIOTT, MC GEE, MCGEE, O NEIL, O'NEIL, O?TON, OAT, OLSEN, ONEIL. Moreover, an asterisk (used in multiple entries) files after a blank space. Thus, the filing order is: SMITH, JAS; SMITH, JAS J; SMITH, JAS J*; SMITH, JAS*; SMITH, JASPER. If the name does not appear where you expect it to be, consult the sections of the introduction titled "Finding a Name in the Index" and "Table of Common Errors."

Information in this index appears in the following order: surname, given name(s), census year, county, page (or "book") number, and locale (usually a township). Thus, the index entry:

RUTHERFORD, RACHAEL 1848 NORTH 9 SO MONAG

shows that, in the 1848 census, a person whose surname was RUTHERFORD and whose given name was RACHAEL was recorded on page 9 in Northumberland (NORTH) County, South Monaghan (SO MONAG) township.

FINDING A CENSUS FOR A GIVEN LOCALE

Once you have located a name in this index, look at the tables near the end of this introduction. Be sure to get the table for the right year. Locale abbreviations and their accompanying census microfilm numbers are listed there. From these you can determine which microfilm shows the census records for the person you are researching.

OTHER USEFUL FEATURES OF THIS INDEX

The section on "Obtaining a Census Copy" explains four different ways to access census information. Our bibliography shows other excellent reference tools for locating individuals in early records.

UNIQUE INDEXING METHOD

This index is far more accurate than traditional census indexes. If a census name can be read more than one way, we have tried to index each possible spelling. Of course, some of the alternate spellings we list are wrong. But our indexing method also means we put significantly more correct names in our indexes. For details see our "Transcription Rules" in the following introduction.

INTRODUCTION

TO THE INDEX

Index Publishing presents this index for genealogists, historians, demographers, and other researchers who wish to quickly determine where specific individuals are located on the available portions of the 1848 and 1850 censuses of Canada West (approximately the same in boundaries as modern Ontario).

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

THE CENSUS

A note included on the Huron District microfilms (see our bibliography under: Canada, Board of Registration and Statistics) explains that the census of 1848 was to be taken in the months of February and March, according to an authorizing Act of the Parliament of Canada. Apparently the finished census was destroyed in the Parliament Building fire at Montreal in 1849, but some copies were kept locally, and are among the documents covered by this index. We have not determined exactly why the complete census from 1850 is unavailable to researchers, but local copies from that year are also indexed here.

A great deal of information was collected on both these censuses that can help researchers learn more about earlier Canadians. While only the head of each household is shown by name, there is statistical information on all residents, along with agricultural and industrial information. This information occupies one line on each page of a thin "book" of 8 pages in 1848 and of 10 pages in 1850. (See "Description of Data on the Census" for more information.)

THE PROVINCE

In the period of these censuses, Canada West (the formal name between 1841 and 1867 of what is now essentially the province of Ontario) was sparsely settled. It was divided for administrative purposes into a number of Districts, many of which were divided into "counties." The latter were originally of little importance, and in fact there were at first no county seats, but only the district capitals; but in 1849, a reorganization made them of somewhat more administrative importance. The counties noted on the microfilms we used are apparently contemporary or nearly so, and these comprise the entries in the "cnty" column of this index. The district for any given county can be found by inspecting the following list.

Huron District (later the United Counties of Bruce, Huron, and Perth): Bruce, Huron, Middlesex, and Perth Counties.

Johnstown District: Grenville and Leeds Counties.

Newcastle District: Durham and Northumberland Counties.

SCOPE OF THE INDEX

This is an index of every name in the 1848 and 1850 heads-of-house census schedules for Canada West (now Ontario) which are available on microfilm through either the Public Archives of Canada or the Genealogical Society of Utah.

The total population of Canada West in 1848 was 725,879 and there were 119,061 families. In 1848, for Huron, Johnstown, and Newcastle Districts (which are covered in this index), the total population was 112,850 and there were 19,598 families. But the census returns for some areas have been lost, and others have not been easily accessible to us, including townships from these three districts. (See the table in the following section of this introduction.) There are only 19,195 entries in this index for 1848. The number of entries is, however, increased by our indexing method, with many names entered more than once under alternate interpretations. Thus, less than 19,195 unique individuals from the 1848 census are represented in this index.

We have not been able to get similar official statistics for 1850. There are 17,091 entries in this index for 1850, giving a total of 36,286 for both years. Because of our indexing method, less than 36,286 unique individuals are represented in this index.

METHODOLOGY

SOURCES

We indexed microfilm copies of the censuses. Original paper copies of the censuses we indexed are kept at two institutions.

The original censuses of 1848 for Huron District (not to be confused with Huron County) and of 1850 for the United Counties of Bruce, Huron, and Perth (part of the same general area under a new name) are in the D. B. Weldon Library, University of Western Ontario, 1151 Richmond St. N., London, Ontario N6A 3K7. These documents were microfilmed there in 1971 by the Genealogical Society of Utah, and duplicate microfilms were given to the University of Western Ontario at the time of microfilming. The copies we used are found at the Genealogical Library of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, 50 East North Temple Street, Salt Lake City, Utah 84150. Their call numbers are US/CAN Films 851365-68.

The custodian of the original censuses of 1848 for Johnstown and of 1848 and 1850 for Newcastle District is the Archives of Ontario, 77 Grenville Street, Queen's Park, Toronto, Ontario M7A 2R9. Microfilm copies were obtained from the Pre-Confederation Section, Manuscript Division, Public Archives of Canada, 395 Wellington Street, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0N3, by inter-library loan through the Salt Lake City Public Library. The Archives call numbers are M-5909 through M-5915.

See the tables at the end of this introduction for more information on the microfilms mentioned in the preceding two paragraphs.

There are also a number of surviving census fragments from the 1848 and 1850 Canada West censuses which we have not indexed. According to Jonasson, "Pre-1851 Census Records of Ontario" (see our bibliography), the following exist in manuscript at the institutions shown.

For information as to the accessibility of the items in this table--the original documents or reproductions--write to the institutions listed. The addresses of the Archives of Ontario and the University of Western Ontario are given above. The third institution's address is: Hiram Walker Historical Museum, 254 Pitt St. W., Windsor, Ontario N9A 5L5.

TRANSCRIPTION RULES

Index Publishing used the following rules for producing this index.

1. All names listed on the census are indexed, with no exceptions. It should be noted, however, that the original censuses give the names only of the heads of households.
2. Names are copied letter for letter as they appear in the record, except for the changes in word sequence indicated below.
3. Surnames are listed before given names. "John Smith" appears as SMITH, JOHN.
4. Only upper-case (capital) letters are used. Periods and diacritical marks are omitted, but other punctuation is copied. Thus, "F. D'Arcy" is D'ARCY, F; "René" becomes RENE; and Marr-Ward is MARRWARD.

5. When an entry can be read in more than one way, the two or more equally possible readings are all indexed and an asterisk () is typed after the given name(s). Thus, if it cannot be determined whether a name is "J. Jemson" or "J. Jimson," both JEMSON, J and JIMSON, J* will be indexed.
6. Abbreviations are not expanded, no matter how "obvious." Thus, "Jas" appears as JAS (not as JAMES). Unfortunately, no indication can be made that the last letter of an abbreviation is written higher above the line, as is common with 19th-century records.
7. Spelling corrections are not made, no matter how "obvious." If a name is recorded as "Robbert Johnsn," it is indexed as JOHNSN, ROBBERT*--the asterisk indicating the possible misspelling of the original entry. However, if a probable error by the enumerator puts a name well away from its proper alphabetical place, both the form in the record and the probable correction are entered. Thus, "Jihnsn, Robbert" would be entered as JIHNSON, ROBBERT* and JOHN-SON, ROBBERT*.
8. All compound surnames are typed with the letters and spaces that appear in the record, with no attempt made to impose uniformity. Thus, any or all of the following surname forms may appear in the same index: M'CALL, MACCALL, MC CALL, MCCALL, O BRIEN, O'BRIEN, OBRIEN, SAINT JOHN, ST JOHN, VAN DER VEER, VANDERVEER, DE LA VEGA, DU BOIS, DUBOIS, FITZ GERALD, FITZGERALD, GARCIA Y SANCHEZ, and LLOYD-GEORGE. This has an effect on the filing sequence, as noted in the section on "Finding a Name in this Index."
9. In Chinese and Japanese, it is correct to list the surname first. It is assumed that the enumerator has written the name correctly, and the content of the record is preserved in this index. Note, however, that the "Ah" which frequently appears as the first element of a Chinese name is always omitted from this index. "Ah" is not a name but a sort of title, approximately corresponding to "little" and used or not according to the situation. Its omission permits a more significant part of the name to appear in alphabetical order in this index. Thus, "Ah Wing Lee" appears as WING, LEE.
10. Military ranks and other titles (such as Mr., Mrs., M., Mme., Jr., Dr., Rev.) appear in the given-name field after the given names (if any). E.g., "Major Wm. R. Fay, Jr." is FAY, WM R JR MAJOR; "Mrs. Adam Taft III" is TAFT, ADAM III MRS; and "Miss Mary Main" is MAIN, MARY MISS.
11. When there is no surname in the entry, the given name or names appear in the surname field. This is fairly frequent with American Indians, especially servants, and with members of religious orders. Thus, if the complete entry is "Tommy," it will be indexed as TOMMY, with nothing in the given-name field; "Gold Eagle" is GOLD EAGLE--again, all in the surname field. "Sister Mary Boniface" will appear as MARY BONIFACE, SISTER, "Mr. Meyer" as MEYER, MR, and "Sgt. Hart" as HART, SGT, with their titles standing alone in the given-name fields.

12. Where a name occurs which does not easily break into surname and given name, e.g., "One Eye Bill," the sequence in the record is given in this index, with descriptive in the surname field and the apparent given name in the given name field: ONE EYE, BILL*. In addition, an inverted sequence, designed to alphabetize the apparent given name (the part that the bearer is most likely to have had from birth), is entered: BILL, ONE EYE*. The asterisks indicate the multiple entry.
13. There are 15 spaces available for entering the surname field and 15 for the given-name field, and one cannot borrow from the other. The maximum combined total when printed is 27 characters, including the comma and space between fields. Thus, "Brother John of the Immaculate Heart of Mary" becomes JOHN OF THE IMM, BROTHE, and the census microfilm must be consulted for his full name.
14. Infrequently, all or part of an entry is written over by the enumerator, blotted out, torn away, or otherwise made wholly or partially illegible; or the quality of even the best available microfilm copy is extremely poor. In such cases, if one or more plausible guesses can be made--and they usually can--they will be entered, with asterisks; but an entry will also be made using question marks to indicate approximately how many letters are illegible. Thus, if a blot covers the first half of a surname, but the letters "ston" are visible following the blot, and "Jos" before it, the entries JOHNSTON, JOS* and ???STON, JOS might be made. For a bigger blot, LIVINGSTON, JOS* and ?????STON, JOS could be entered. If you cannot find the name you want in or near its alphabetical place on the index, try searching the entries at the head of the list that begin with one or more question marks.
15. The original censuses consist of eight-page sections for 1848 and ten-page sections for 1850, as shown in our section on "Description of Data on the Census" below. These pages have numbers from 1 to 8 or from 1 to 10 printed in their corners. The head of household's name appears on the page of each section with the printed "1," and the information about the household starts on that page and continues on the same line through page "8" or page "10," followed by a new section starting over with a page "1." Since it is obviously of no use to show every name as occurring on page "1," this index uses other numbers in its "page" column.

On microfilms 851365-68, several lists call the 8- or 10-page sections "books." At some time, each book has been given a number, usually written at the top of the sheet and circled. This index has the book number in our "page" column for films 851365-68.

The censuses appearing on microfilms M-5909 to M-5915, however, have been given true page numbers, so that the names of heads of households appear on pages with handwritten numbers e.g., 1, 9, 17, 25, etc., on the 1848 census, or on pages with handwritten numbers e.g., 1, 11, 21, 31, etc., on the 1850 census. For films M-5909 to M-5915, these are the numbers given in the "page" column. Thus, on the 1850 census, if this index shows an entry on page 101, there will be information on that household on all the pages of that book, viz., 101-110. (Occasional summary pages and the like also occur, so the pages given in this index may instead be, e.g., 2, 12, 23, 33, etc., on the 1850 census.)

PRODUCTION PROCESS

As the data is transcribed from the microfilm copies of the census, each typist makes more than one entry for any name whose spelling is uncertain. Some of the extra spellings will be wrong, but the chances of finding a particular name increase dramatically because of the alternate spellings. Thus, the index user will be able to find the name he or she is researching far more often in our indexes than in traditional indexes.

After the transcription is transferred into computer files, the data is edited for correctness. Among other procedures, the first name of each census page (or book) is checked to insure the index lists the correct numbers. The corrected data is alphabetized, duplicate entries are eliminated, and the index is printed.

Throughout the process, error rates are estimated, and action taken if necessary. Such action may include double inputting of one or more sections, i. e., two different typists each enter the same data in order to increase the probability that the name is entered correctly at least once.

HOW TO USE THIS INDEX

This 1848 and 1850 Canada West (Ontario) Census Index gives details that can be used to quickly find the original census entry. The original census usually provides a great deal of information about the individual and his or her family. This section explains how to find a name in this index, what information is given in an index entry, and how to use that information to find a name on a microfilm of the original census.

FINDING A NAME IN THE INDEX

This index is alphabetical by surname followed by given name(s). Normally you can simply go to the section of the alphabet where you expect a name to appear. If you cannot find a name in the index where you expect it to be, browse through the names near that spot to see if the name is spelled slightly differently, or abbreviated. For example, a Thomas J. Allen might be found listed as ALLEN, THOS or ALLEN, T J or even ALAN, THOMAS J.

Moreover, names are filed character-by-character in computer order. Punctuation marks come before letters. The following all file before the letter "A": 1) a blank space, 2) an apostrophe, 3) a hyphen, and 4) a question mark (see transcription rule 14 above.) Thus, the following surnames are listed in correct filing order: ??RN, ?AVE, D'ISLE, DE LA MAR, DEAN, M GEE, M'GEE, M??RN, M?FLE, MABEN, MAC GEE, MACGEE, MARR-WARD, MARRIOTT, MC GEE, MC KAY, MCGEE, O NEIL, O'NEIL, O'NEILL, O?TON, OAT, OLSEN, ONEIL.

The character-by-character filing sequence also affects names marked with asterisks (see transcription rules 5, 7, 12, and 14 above). The asterisk (*) files after a space but before any letter. Thus, the following full names are listed in correct filing order:

SMITH, JAS
SMITH, JAS J
SMITH, JAS J*
SMITH, JAS*
SMITH, JASPER

This group would, of course, follow SMITH, JAMES; SMITH, JAMES J; SMITH, JAMES J*; and SMITH, JAMES*, because M files before S.

There are also several other kinds of problems which may cause a name to be difficult to locate. Some problems are created by the condition of the record itself. The census taker's pen may have been bad; the ink may have been faint, or it may have faded by the time the census was microfilmed. Pages may have been lost or torn.

Moreover, bad handwriting creates problems. Some enumerators wrote two or more letters (or letter sequences) exactly alike. One of the most common difficulties is for "e," "i," and "r" each to be represented by a small spike in the line. Another is for "u" and "n" to be two identical pairs of spikes, with "m" consisting of three spikes. When a hand has both of these characteristics, a name like "Timmerman" can only be guessed at--particularly if the final two letters are represented by a loop and a wavy line that might equally well be intended for "or" instead of "an."

When the differences of 19th-century handwriting from 20th-century handwriting are also taken into account--such as the peculiar forms of "H" and "ss," the similarity of "L" and "S," and the frequent identity of "I" with "J"--there are literally hundreds of types of possible reading mistakes.

The typist occasionally creates problems by transposing letters or making other typing errors, or by simply misreading what the enumerator wrote.

The index user can create his or her own problems by rigidly insisting that a name can be spelled in only one way. Remember, the custom of a single, established spelling for a family name is comparatively recent. Moreover, though foreign accents and foreign names must have caused difficulties for the census takers, it is probable that many enumerators rarely asked how any name was spelled and simply wrote what they thought they heard.

For all these reasons, flexibility is important when searching an index of this type. Further, because errors and omissions do occur in indexes, the index user should be prepared to search the original census if the index shows no entry for the person. Researchers have occasionally found names on the actual census when the names were accidentally omitted from the index.

TABLE OF COMMON ERRORS

The following table may be useful in looking for names in the census index. The letter the census taker intended to write is in the first column. The second column gives the possible miswritings, misinterpretations, and typing errors for that letter. These are given in a very rough order of probability. The errors followed by an asterisk are extremely common, and should be routinely checked for names not found in the index where expected. For example, if you fail to find the name "Aaron," look at the table below to learn the name might have been indexed as AORAN, HARON, or even HOSAU. "Warren" might appear as WARNER or "Warner" as WARREN.

WHAT THE INDEX TELLS YOU

Information for each entry in this index appears in the following order: surname, given name(s), census year, county (as given on the microfilm), "page" number, and locale where the person was enumerated. Copy this information on a slip of paper to refer to when you search the original census records. While the "page" number may actually be a "book" number (as fully explained in rule 15 under "Transcription Rules" above), for location purposes you only need to know that we always use the handwritten number on the film.

Some names in this index are followed by an asterisk (*). This symbol shows that the typist was not sure how to interpret the spelling of a name because of poor writing by the enumerator or poor microfilm quality. Also, it usually means the typist entered the same name from the census under more than one spelling in this index. Transcription rules 5, 7, 12, and 14 above give more details on the use of asterisks.

OBTAINING A CENSUS COPY

Once the family you are researching is located in this index, you will know the locale in which they are listed on the census. The tables after this introduction show the call numbers you can use to get copies of the microfilms for that locale for the appropriate year. Researchers can obtain these census records through several methods described below. Prices are subject to change. If a particular census copy is inadequate, ask for a better reproduction through the same system or one of the alternate access systems listed below.

FREE USE OF A LIBRARY COPY

Microfilms of the 1848 censuses for Johnstown District and of 1848 and 1850 for Newcastle District are available for free public use at this address:

Pre-Confederation Section
Manuscript Division
Public Archives of Canada
395 Wellington Street
Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0N3

These microfilms, with Public Archives of Canada call numbers M5909 through M-5915, are also available through the inter-library loan departments of most local public libraries and genealogical societies, free or for a nominal charge, varying with the borrowing institution. The Archives warns non-Canadian borrowers that lengthy delays may be encountered with the postal system, particularly as the reels must clear customs, and that it will be some years yet before the Archives automates its circulation controls. The Archives return label packed with the microfilm should be used by the borrowing institution so that it will be recognized at Canadian Customs as government property exempt from duty.

They are presumably also available for free public use at the Archives of Ontario, which is the custodian of the original census schedules:

Archives of Ontario
77 Grenville Street
Queen's Park
Toronto, Ontario M7A 2R9

That institution does not currently service inter-library loans, so researchers far from Toronto should borrow from the Public Archives of Canada, as stated above.

Microfilms M-5909 to M-5915 are also not presently available through the Genealogical Library or its branches, which do not participate in inter-library loans outside their own system.

Microfilms of the censuses of 1848 for Huron District (not to be confused with Huron County) and of 1850 for the United Counties of Bruce, Huron, and Perth (parts of the same general area under a new name) are available for free public use at the main genealogical library of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints at this address:

Genealogical Library
50 East North Temple Street
Salt Lake City, Utah 84150

Their call numbers are US/CAN Films 851365-68. Presumably copies of the microfilms given to the D. B. Weldon Library, University of Western Ontario when the Genealogical Society of Utah microfilmed the census records are now available for free public use, but we have not been able to confirm this.

In the interest of preserving the original paper copies, it is desirable to use microfilm copies of old documents whenever possible. If microfilm copies are illegible, special permission to view originals must be sought from the institutions which preserve them.

PHOTOCOPIES

Photoreproductions of individual census pages can be purchased through the mail from either the Genealogical Library or the Public Archives of Canada, depending on the microfilm involved.

When ordering, cite the census year, locale, county, and family, along with the microfilm roll number and page or book number. Tables after this introduction show microfilm numbers. Be sure to use the right one; many locales appear on the censuses of both 1848 and 1850, and these appear in different places on our tables. Cite the number from the "page" column in this index. Note, however, that some "page" numbers are really book numbers and should be identified as such when ordering. A description of the census arrangement (repeated from our transcription rule 15) will make this clearer.

The original censuses consist of eight-page sections for 1848 and ten-page sections for 1850, as shown in our section on "Description of Data on the Census" below. These pages have numbers from 1 to 8 or from 1 to 10 printed in their corners. The head of household's name appears on the page of each section with printed "1," and the information about the household starts on that page and continues on the same line through page "8" or page "10," followed by a new section starting over with a page "1." Since it is obviously of no use to show every name as occurring on page "1," this index uses other numbers in its "page" column.

On microfilms 851365-68, several lists call the 8- or 10-page sections "books." At some time, each book has been given a number, usually written at the top of the sheet and circled. This index has the book number in our "page" column for films 851365-68.

The censuses appearing on microfilms M-5909 to M-5915, however, have been given true page numbers, so that the names of heads of households appear on pages with handwritten numbers e.g., 1, 9, 17, 25, etc., on the 1848 census, or on pages with handwritten numbers e.g., 1, 11, 21, 31, etc., on the 1850 census. For films M-5909 to M-5915, these are the numbers given in the "page" column. Thus, on the 1850 census, if this index shows an entry on page 101, there will be information on that household on all the pages of that book, viz., 101-110. (Occasional summary pages and the like also occur, so the pages given in this index may instead be, e.g., 2, 12, 23, 33, etc., on the 1850 census.)

Because the information about a household on any film occupies one line on each page of a book--8 pages in 1848 and 10 pages in 1850--you may well wish to order more than one page. Be sure to make your request clear to the institution you order from.

The Genealogical Library is the source for copies from microfilms 851365-68. The Library asks researchers to use its Photoduplication Order form (PFGS2192) when ordering copies of census pages. This form can be obtained through the mail from the Genealogical Library. As of this writing, census page copies cost $0.25 apiece, and the minimum order is $1.00 (U.S.). Make your check or money order payable to "Genealogical Library."

No special form is necessary to order copies from microfilms M-5909 through M-5915 from the Public Archives of Canada, though one is available from them. As of this writing, the price of Public Archives photocopies is $0.25 per page, minimum charge $2.00 (Canadian), and the requester is billed on completion of the work. Borrowing libraries may also make reader-printer copies of individual entries for their clients, for research purposes. Questions about publication of the text or photographs should be referred to the Archives of Ontario, the custodian of the original census schedules.

RENTING MICROFILMS

It may be more economical, depending on the number of pages you wish to see, to rent a microfilm rather than to order a copy of it.

We know of no institution renting microfilms M-5909 to M5915, but they may be borrowed through your local library or genealogical society as described under "Free Use of a Library Copy" above. Under the standard terms of the inter-library loan arrangement, there is no charge to the borrowing library, but it is responsible for return postage. The borrowing library may pass this on to its patron, but usually does not.

Copies of microfilms 851365-68 can be obtained for use at any Branch Genealogical Library of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Over 525 of these Branch Genealogical Libraries are scattered around the world. A list of Branch Genealogical Libraries near you can be obtained on request from the Genealogical Library. The rental cost varies among the branches, but at this writing is usually about $2.50 (U.S.) per film.

PURCHASING MICROFILMS

In some circumstances, microfilms 851365-68 can be purchased. Of course, buying a census microfilm does not guarantee the researcher will find the family he or she seeks.

The Genealogical Library of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will sell microfilms only to non-profit institutions. They will not sell film to individuals or family organizations. As we go to press their prices ($U.S.) are $12.50 for diazo or vesicular film, and $15.00 for silver films. For details write the Genealogical Library for their letter, "How To Acquire Microfilm From The Genealogical Society of Utah."

The Public Archives of Canada does not hold the master negatives of microfilms M-5909 to M-5915 and cannot duplicate the whole reel for sale.

FINDING A NAME ON THE CENSUS FILM

After obtaining a copy of the census, you are ready to find the entry for your family. First make sure you have the correct microfilm for the locale where your family lived and for the year of the census you are interested in. Tables after this introduction show the film on which a given locale can be found, and explain any peculiarities of the index entries.

Then examine the top of the census pages to find the locale and the page or book numbers. Ignore the pre-printed numbers from 1 to 8 or 1 to 10; the numbers you need to look at are those that have been handwritten in at the top of the pages. Find the place where this index says your family should be and search for their name there.

DESCRIPTION OF DATA ON THE CENSUS

The locale where the census was taken is shown on page 1 (pre-printed number) of each book. Information for each household is given in 146 columns on 8 pages in the 1848 census; or 184 columns on 10 pages in the 1850 census. Note that not all column headings or subheadings are listed. In some cases only a few representative ones are given; in some cases none at all, when the main heading sufficiently indicates what information is given, or when several headings in a row have the same subheads, or when 1850 column headings are very similar to those of 1848. All such omissions are indicated by ellipses. Capitalization, including ALL CAPS, and spelling are as in the original. Page breaks are indicated by a double row of hyphens: =====.

184 REMARKS

The above information may provide valuable clues to help historical and genealogical researchers. While only the head of each household is shown by name, there is statistical information on all residents. The "Native of . . ." data may narrow the search for other records on individuals. Age spans allow some estimates of birthdate to be made. Other inferences can be drawn through thoughtful analysis of the data on the census, particularly when successive censuses are compared. A good discussion of techniques can be found in Doane, Searching for Your Ancestors (see our bibliography) in a section about U. S. censuses for 1790-1840.

HELP US CORRECT THIS INDEX

Index Publishing welcomes suggested corrections for this index. We earnestly seek help finding our mistakes and fixing them. Later editions of this index can be updated, and errata sheets can be mailed to those who have the current edition of this index.

If you find an error or omission, please write or telephone Index Publishing, P.O. Box 11476, Salt Lake City, Utah 84147. Telephone (801) 531-1184. Explain the problem and we will be glad to fix it.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The editors at Index Publishing thank the managers of the Genealogical Library of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints for providing microfilms and the other library resources that made this index possible. Other microfilms were loaned by the Public Archives of Canada through the Salt Lake City Public Library, and we thank both institutions for their cooperation. In particular, we thank Miss P. Kennedy and Dr. Marianne McLean of the Pre-Confederation Section.

Ernie Sykes was kind enough to give us some general orientation on the districts and counties of Canada; any errors in detail must, however, be considered the fault of the editors.

We are grateful to Genni Systems, Inc., and especially Steve Pettit for his technical assistance with our computer system.

Finally, we are grateful to the hard working input typists and support staff employed by Index Publishing. Donna Anderson, Collene Ashe, Ann Clay, Charisse Conrad, Heather Cutler, Diane Gee, Lim Sung Hwan, Kirsten Lajoie, Joann Theresa Marquez, Makalita Mulitalo, Dianna Thresher, George A. Trosper, and Maureen Wengert all helped with this census index.

A SELECTED BIBLIOGRAPHY OF SIMILAR SUBJECT MATTER AND BACKGROUND SOURCES

This bibliography is divided into two sections. The first section, headed "Local Indexes," contains indexes for individual districts, counties, or parts thereof. The second section ("General") contains all other bibliographic entries.

The abbreviation GSU is used throughout for the Genealogical Society of Utah. The initials of other institutions are used when the full name is given earlier in the same entry.

Local Indexes

This section is in alphabetical order by name of district or county covered. Huron District is listed before the county of the same name. Within the same county the listings are arranged by name of township (if any), year of the census, and then alphabetically by author and title. Entries for parts of counties are interfiled with those for entire counties. For predecessor and successor counties to those listed, consult Jonasson, "The Districts and Counties of Southern Ontario . . ." (see the "General" section of this bibliography).

LOCALES, DISTRICTS, AND COUNTIES WITH MICROFILM NUMBERS

The numbers used by the Public Archives of Canada in Ottawa are given in the left column of these tables. The numbers for these same films in the Archives of Ontario in Toronto are known to be different but are not available to us. As noted in the preceding introduction, copies of the films in the Genealogical Library system presumably also exist at the University of Western Ontario's D. B. Weldon Library, but this is only a presumption. For further information, see the "Sources" section in the preceding introduction.
